Dear Sir:

Your name was produced from the subscribers roll of Civil War Times magazine (we were quite surprised to learn there are about 800 subscribers in the Seattle-Tacoma area). We are sending you this special bulletin due to your apparent interest in the Civil War and, therefore, the likelihood that you would be interested in becoming a member of our Puget Sound Round Table. There are about 200 round tables scattered throughout the country. Our Puget Sound Round Table, recently organized, is the first round table in the Northwest. Our annual dues are $10.00 a year. We have plans to meet on the third Thursday of every other month during the year except the summer months. It is possible that we might decide to hold our meetings on the third Thursday of every month but this will depend upon the desire of our group. Meeting dates for this current season are as follows:

Thursday	November 21	6:30 pm	Gold Room, Sand Point Officers Club
Thursday	January 16	6:30 pm	Gold Room, Sand Point Officers Club
Thursday	March 20 13	6:30 pm	Gold Room, Sand Point Officers Club
Thursday	May 15 8	6:30 pm	Gold Room, Sand Point Officers Club

(Sentries at the main entrance to the Base (on Sand Point Way at NE 75th Street will be provided with a list of Round Table members and their guests.)

The first dinner meeting of our Round Table, in the Gold Room at the Sand Point Naval Support facility, proved to be a pleasant and informative get-together for our newly formed group. A brief business meeting followed our dinner. Round Table member Loren Mann, Retired US Army Colonel and high school principal, provided a quite interesting and instructive presentation on the importance of river transportation systems during the western campaigns of the Civil War. Two new members of the Round Table were welcomed - Col. C.B.M. Pembroke III and Melvin E. Wyatt. A thank you to Round Table member Charles Ellington for organizing the cocktail hour and Gold Room reservations.

Copies of this bulletin have been mailed to 200 individuals named in our Civil War Times subscription roll. Our next Round Table meeting is scheduled for Thursday, November 21 in the Gold Room. Sentries at the main entrance to the Base will be provided with the names of those attending. The dining room must have an accurate table count 48 hours in advance. There is very little lee way so try not to be a "no show." Time is 6:30 pm for cocktails with dinner at 7 pm, followed by a presentation by Dr. Thomas J. Pressley, prominent University of Washington professor of history. Dr. Pressley has written many books and articles about the Civil War and is regarded as an authority by Civil War scholars. We look forward with great interest to his presentation. Hopefully, we will conclude our Round Table evening at 9 pm after door prize drawing.

Enclosed is a postcard for your convenience. Its return is important not only for reservations but also for future mailings.

See you at Sand Point!
