NOVEMBER 9, 1989 PROGRAM: Our speaker will be Alan Archambeault, Director of the Fort Lewis Military Museum and Vice-President of The Company of Military Historians. Mr. Archambeault is the author of children's books on Civil War uniforms, heroes and heroines and is a Civil War artist. He is a lifelong Civil War enthusiast and an experienced speaker. His topic for November will be Civil War uniforms: he will speak in uniform and will use slides. This should be a lively presentation and deserves a large turnout.

OUR THANKS to Wiley Sword for his extremely thorough and knowledgeable discussion of Shiloh at the October meeting. His years of research show in his mastery of a complex battle. We are very grateful to him for taking the time to travel out here from Michigan to speak to us.

DECEMBER 14, 1989 PROGRAM: Our speakers will be Dr. James F. Morgan and Marc Duvall. Their joint topic will be Civil War currency and finance, Union and Confederate. Dr. Morgan has written a book on the subject. Collections will be available for viewing. They both know their subject, and this should be a very well-informed presentation.
